

English for Football – week 33

To be ruled out

This week's English for Football is the expression To be ruled out which means that a player is unable to play for some reason. He or she may be ruled out through injury or ruled out because of suspension. In the upcoming World Cup qualifying matches, Scotland face a crisis before their game with Holland as many of their top players have been ruled out through injury. To be ruled out.
